

New ecological and economic horizons in poultry

L. A. Zazykina,
V.A. Gusev,
I. G. Sysoeva

Natural-technical system of an agricultural enterprise

Analysis of data on litters from day 7 to day 35, %

The experiment shows that the use of adsorbent has a positive effect on the growth of poultry, the bio-chemical composition of the main product and by-products (litter), which is more enriched with nitrogen and other trace elements, and the use of physical adsorbent allows a prolonged effect on the soil.